NAME OF EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTION:	Illinois Wesleyan University School of Nursing and Health Sciences
POSITION:	Associate or Full Professor Director, School of Nursing and Health Sciences
Is this a chief nursing officer or director of nursing position?	Yes
RESPONSIBILITIES:	This individual will advance undergraduate theory-based education and is responsible for administering the nursing major, health promotion and fitness management major, and health and public health minors as well as further development of Health Sciences. The Director represents the School within the University, as well as regionally and nationally. Interdisciplinary collaboration within the University and commitment to mentoring faculty in teaching, scholarship, and service is expected.
MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS:	The School of Nursing and Health Sciences welcomes qualified candidates with an earned master's in nursing and a doctorate in nursing or related field. Successful candidates will have a demonstrated leadership record with academic administrative experience.
PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS:	Qualified candidates may be eligible to also be named as the Endowed Chair.
TO APPLY:	An expedited review of applicants will begin July 1, and will continue until an exceptional candidate is found. The ideal start date is January 1, 2023. Applicants should address their administrative philosophy and any potential contributions they can make to the University mission through their teaching, scholarship, and service in the letter of application. Materials should address potential contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion initiatives. Vitae and names and contact information of three references are also required. References will not be contacted without prior knowledge. Salary is competitive and academic rank is commensurate with experience and qualifications.
