John A. Logan College ADN	At John A. Logan College, we have three ADN program options (full-time ADN, part-time evening ADN, and Hybrid ADN). The ADN Hybrid program option has different courses than the traditional options (full and part-time). The program admits the part-time option every other fall semester (fall 2023, fall 2025, etc.) and is a five-semester program. As a program, we have been working on retention rates. We have a grant that has allowed student assistance with tutoring and funding to assist with the costs associated with the degree. The program also has a formal action plan in place to identify students at risk in the three program options. The only minor curriculum revision that has taken place within the last year was moving the general education courses (chemistry and microbiology) within the Hybrid program option to gain more applicants. The college continues to evaluate the Hybrid program option to gain the best qualified applicants who will be successful. At JALC, the nursing department shares faculty across the PN and ADN programs. Currently, JALC has two faculty with variances while obtaining a Master's Degree in Nursing Education. These two individuals (Rose Walker RN# 041.482731 and Catherin Mays RN# 041.530451) teach in the PN program but are also needed to teach specialty clinicals for the OB and pediatric courses (ADN 221-Family Nursing, ADN 223-Hybrid Peds, and ADN 224-Nybrid OB). They will be completing their degrees this academic year (2025-2026). JALC continues to be a huge asset to the local rural hospitals and healthcare organizations in the lower portion of Illinois.
John A. Logan College PN	John A Logan College Practical Nursing Program has initiated minor curriculum revisions including bringing PNE 102-Nursing Procedures back to 2.0 credits (6 hours weekly). We also increased PNE 208-Mental Health from 1.0 to 1.5 credits to have consistent hours in the specialty courses (OB, Peds, and mental health). We hired two new full-time faculty last year (2024-2025) to complete all job openings within the nursing department. We continue to struggle with retention in the PN program. The ICCB PATH grant provides full-time tutoring opportunities for PN students. The same grant has aided with gas, textbook costs, and food insecurity so PN students can study more and work less to get through school. Our program does keep program and course statistics but not formally through a systematic plan of evaluation (SPE). We use anthology software to capture institutional data. Currently, IDFPR does not require PN programs in Illinois to be nationally accredited in nursing. The Dean/DON continues to have full-time staff to assist with the program delivery including an Assistant Dean, Nursing Admission Coordinator, two PATH grant staff, one faculty with release time, and a full-time administrative assistant. We have enough clinical space, but this gets harder as Southern Illinois University at Carbondale's nursing program continues to grow. We try to offer a nontraditional weekend clinical option to offset clinical space issues and use rural access hospitals for PN clinical options.

Lakeview College of Nursing BS	Implemented curricular changes to required teaching and learning modules from Assessment Technologies Institute (ATI) to better align with course student learning outcomes, technological growth, and student satisfaction. Care plan expectations were changed throughout the medical surgical courses (Foundations of Professional Nursing, Adult Health I, Adult Health II, and Adult Health III). The change in care plan expectations was effective Spring 2025. Added new skills set to the curriculum, requiring all students to demonstrate proficiency in the administration of central line intravenous push medications effective Fall 2025. Adjusted pre-requisite requirements effective Fall 2025. Chemistry II is no longer a pre-requisite. This decision was made after carefully reviewing content within Chemistry II and mapping that content throughout the nursing curriculum. Based on this mapping, nursing content was not removed as all content is covered within the curriculum. Approved the acceptance of two standardized admission tests (ATI TEAS and the Kaplan KAT) in addition to the HESI examination as acceptable admission requirements. Each standardized admission test has its own required score based on established criteria. The August 2025 admission cohort is the first admitting cohort impacted by this requirement.
